Food Preparation Competency Among Employees of Canteen Operating Cooperatives in Iloilo City

Objectives

To determine the level of food preparation competency of canteen operating cooperatives.

Highlights

 Employees of canteen operating cooperatives were very highly competent in food preparation.

2. No significant differences existed in the level of competent in food preparation among employees of canteen operating cooperatives in iloilo city when they were classified according to age, sex, educational attainment, and length of employment.

Recommendation

1. Cooperatives must update the skills of their canteen employees to sustain competency in food preparation. They must conduct seminars, trainings and other related activities to advance their skills and knowledge of food preparation.

2. Canteen Employees should continue to update themselves of the current trends in food preparation. They must be encouraged to attend seminars and workshops in food preparation.

3. Consumers must give importance to and must be aware of the proper ways in preparing the food because they are the ones who eat the foods prepared by the canteen owners/ workers. They must suggest, comment and react on the manner they are served and the kind of food served to them.
